EXPERIENCE

Since joining in October 2022, I have gained a year of valuable experience in the field of Information Technology. My skill set encompasses basic knowledge in SQL and Python, which I have employed for data management tasks. Additionally, I possess expertise in WordPress development, graphic design, HTML, and CSS, allowing me to craft visually appealing and functional websites.

Throughout this time, I have successfully contributed to projects by collaborating with teams and clients to understand their requirements and translate them into effective solutions. My proficiency in HTML and CSS has enabled me to design and structure websites with responsive layouts. In the realm of WordPress, I have demonstrated the ability to create dynamic web solutions through customization and plugin integration.

I remain committed to continuous growth and learning, staying abreast of industry trends to enhance my skills further. With a year of hands-on experience, I am equipped to tackle various IT challenges and deliver meaningful contributions to projects and teams.
